House Rules:

Affiliation and Insurance:

The Seishin-seii Foundation is an independent organization, separate from national sports organizations. Our instructors are recognized by qualified Japanese teachers. We view Aikido and classical sword arts as disciplines focused on personal development, similar to Zen meditation, Tai-Chi, and Yoga. There's no focus on competition or winning tournaments. Therefore, joining our dojo won't require additional fees or memberships with other sports bodies. Similar to Judo, Kyu examinations (pre-black belt ranks) are typically handled internally by our dojo. Inscription for black belt exams can be arranged when you're ready.

Waiver of Liability:

Martial arts involve inherent risks. While your safety is our main focus, participation signifies your assumption of risk. The Seishin-seii Foundation is not responsible for injuries, theft, or property damage.
